Going Big: Public Art and Self-Promotion

I was given the opportunity by the Miller Arts Scholars Minigrant to promote my art across UVA. My idea to promote my work through public chalkings, banners and stickers is in progress and will continue through the coming semester. As of this point, I have been able to fund two successful public chalking events and plan more this upcoming spring semester. This winter, I plan to order banners and stickers to be displayed and distributed in preparation for my upcoming thesis exhibition. I am incredibly thrilled with this new medium to work with and have received a lot of positive feedback from the public- often as I work! I wouldn't have been able to make this happen if I wasn't a Miller Arts Scholar, and I am very grateful for their support.
