Painting Supplies for Learning about Color

First, I would like to thank the Miller Arts Scholars for the generous Minigrant that funded painting supplies. These supplies have allowed me to explore relationships between colors and forms. I would also like to thank Neal Rock for providing me with studio space to explore oil painting. I did not have experience with oil painting before. I am concentrating in printmaking, and with more advanced techniques, knowledge of color theory is required. My printmaking professor, Akemi Ohira, recommended that I try painting to learn more about color. She was right. I have learned a lot about color the past few months through trying out different color combinations with the oil paint. I can create a range of colors in a much shorter amount of time than it would take in printmaking. I am grateful for this grant because it has allowed me to improve my painting skills, and my use of color in my prints. As for my budget, I made some adjustments, but the overall total remained about the same. Because Dr. Rock provided me with a studio space with an easel, I did not need to purchase an easel. I decided to allocate these funds toward buying larger tubes of paint. This is reflected in the budget outcome.
